

I am at all times open to receive constructive suggestions that will enable His Majesty the King and his Ministers (whoever they might be at any given time) to govern the people of Lesotho according to the Constitution and the conventions and usages coupled with it.

The Government will continue with its efforts to safeguard the King, and for this purpose security measures at the Palace will be strictly applied.

In conclusion, I am in duty bound to say that unless His Majesty now acts in accordance with the Constitution and the undertaking that he has given, I shall be forced to act against him for the preservation of the Constitution.
