who will visit all parts of the Country enquiring into grievances from those affected by this malpractice of unlawful deprivation, and, after submitting their report, your Government will then take necessary and drastic steps on those guilty. But over and above this, it is Government's firm decision and declaration, with your permission, as time is now ripe for us to abide by and act in accordance with the custom, tradition, that the land inherently belongs to the Nation, not to the chiefs, it should, therefore, be utilised by the people.

In conclusion, I would like to say it is Government's wish that because of drought which has made it impossible for summer crops to thrive in the usual manner, the People should go all out in growing winter crops, mainly wheat which is our rock of salvation and bulwark against the imminent famine.
